

Art by Michael C. Jones

Last Updated Saturday, 12 April 2008

Our sites feature watercolors and pen & ink drawings by artist and licensed landscape architect Michael C. Jones. Piercing in detail, Jones' art brings a special edge to your project making it stand out from the rest.

Our sites feature the original watercolors, sketches, and pen & ink drawings by fine artist Michael C. Jones. Known for his piercing level of detail in development plats and home drawings, Jones' art brings a special edge to your site project that makes it stand out from the rest. Not only is Jones a fine artist, he is also a licensed landscape architect. This unique blend of perspectives provides the Websitesfordevelopers.com team a unique asset in serving you. Jones uses the latest cad software and graphic design technology to interface with both engineers and architects as well as other graphic design vendors. The founder of The Locust Project, based in Nashville, Tennessee, Michael C. Jones has built his reputation as an artist from the ground up. His works feature historic buildings, homes of unique architectural value, and professional lot and home developments. Commissioned by Websitesfordevelopers.com to create a unique look and feel for every project, Michael C. Jones is the artist of record for our clients. His skill set is a good fit for our full-service approach to client services. Learn more about Michael C. Jones and his faithful adherence to detail at TheLocustProject.com.